

Biocentrism & Accessing Deeper Layers of Nature

A week-long experience in an ecologically diverse corner of the Mexican Pacific. What lies beyond realization and Na-Ma-STAY-ing on Earth.

January 7-14, 2023.
Zihuatanejo, Mexico.

Introduction

Biocentrism

What is it anyway?

Biocentrism is the scientific understanding that consciousness creates reality and not the other way around.

That the so-called external universe does not and cannot exist without the life of the observer.

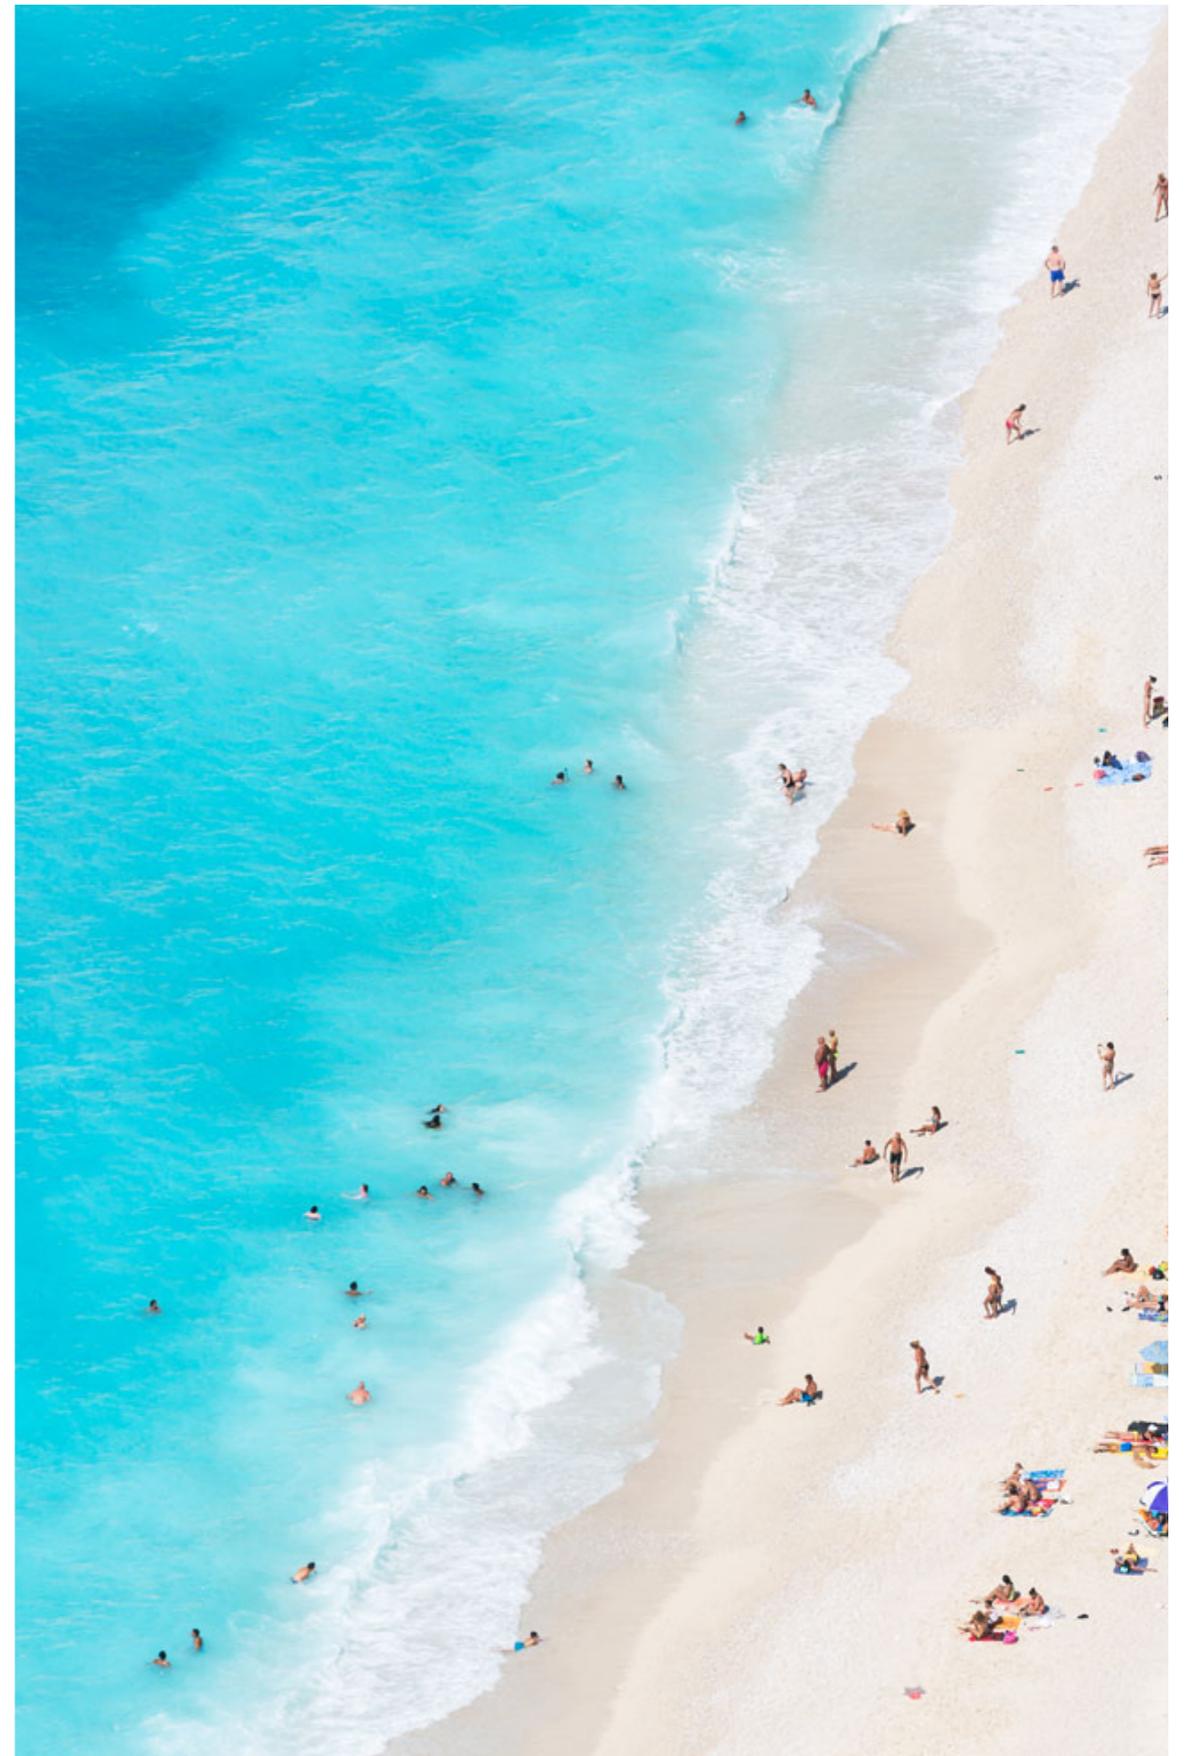

Life creates the Universe, rather than the Universe creating Life.

Without consciousness - in this case, that of an Earthly life - matter dwells in an undetermined state of probability.

Space and time do not exist independently of the Life Observer.

In other words, there is no physical reality in which events occur independent of life.

Life is at the Center of the Universe of You!

Introduction

Biocentrism

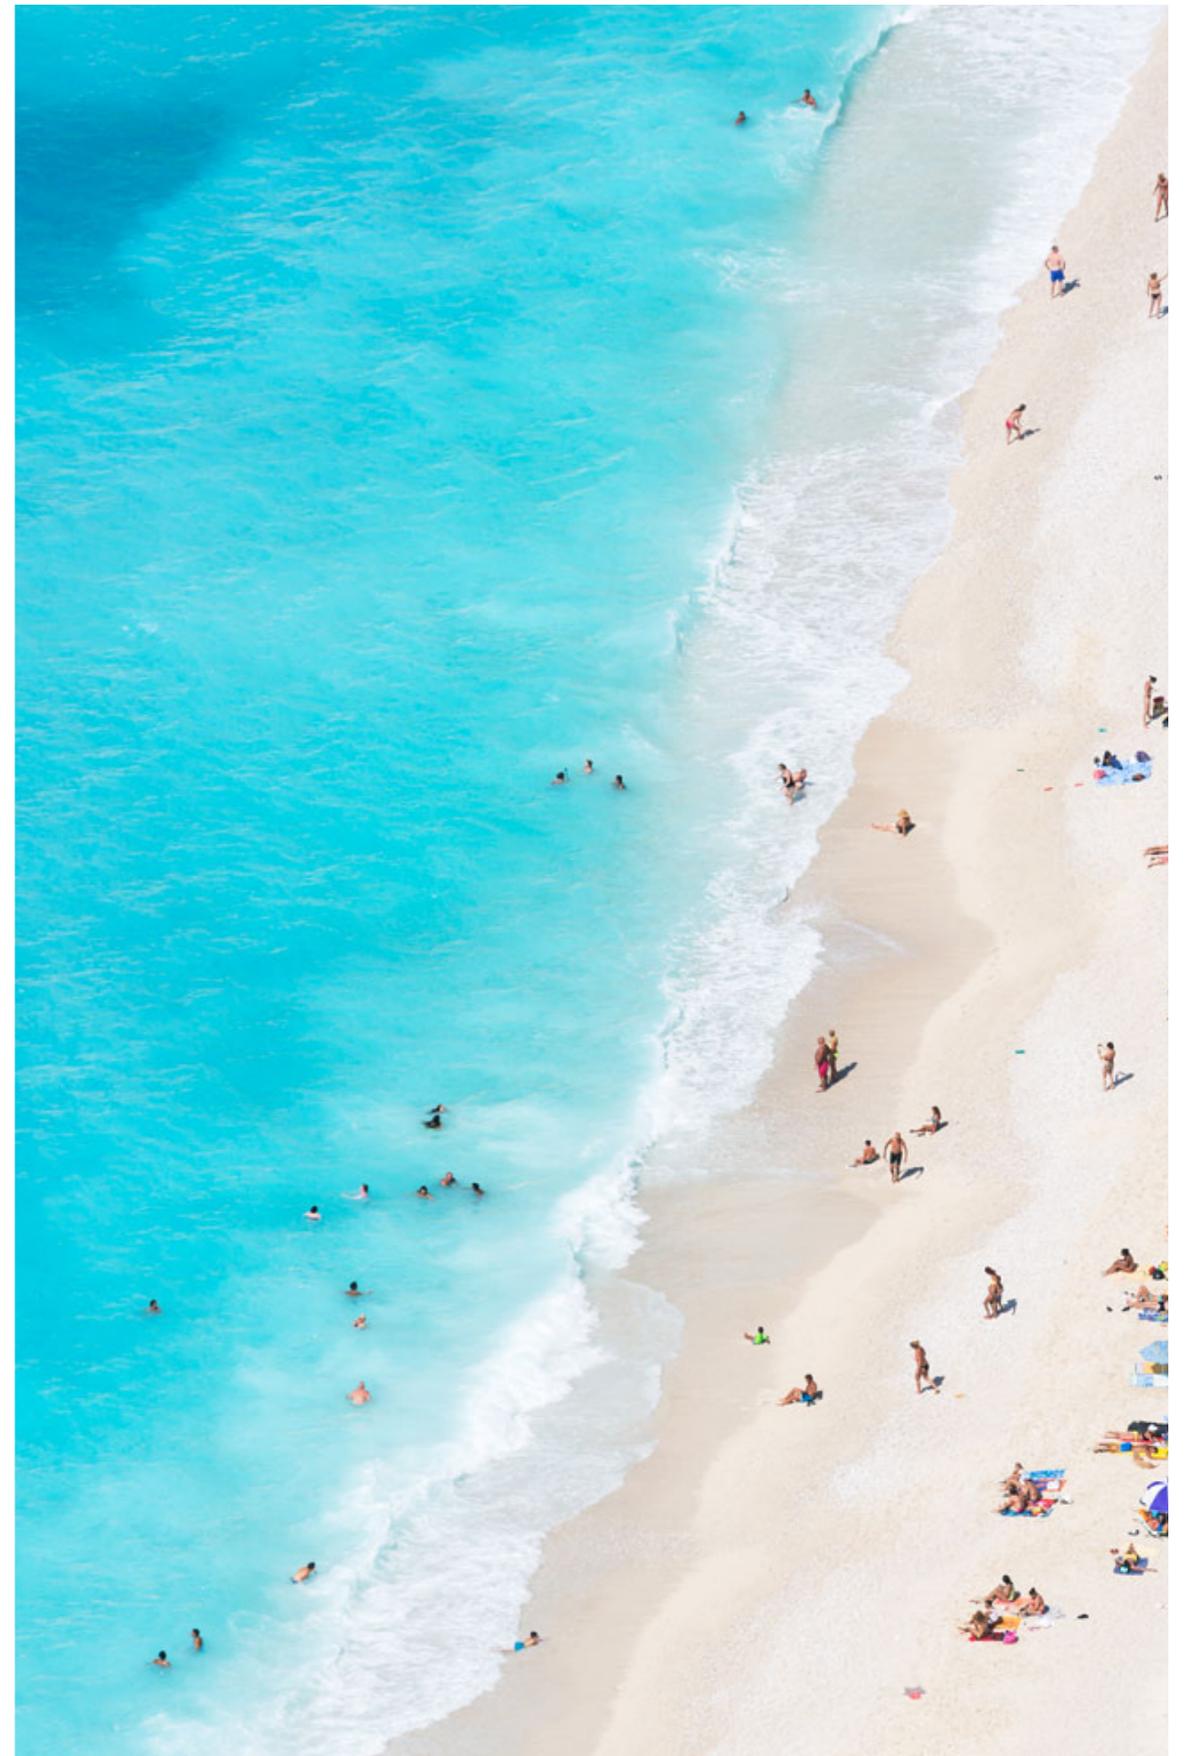

Why is it important?

Ask anyone on planet Earth if the Universe is external - something out there to be explored in a space ship - and they will likely say yes.

Like humans thought the planets revolved around Earth until the Copernican Revolution finally began to convince Earth dwellers that planets revolved around the sun.

Like humans thought the earth was flat until someone sailed around it.

Something is shifting in scientific schools of thought as well as in those moving from the New Age into New Energy, in which, for example, energy responds to consciousness rather than thoughts become things.

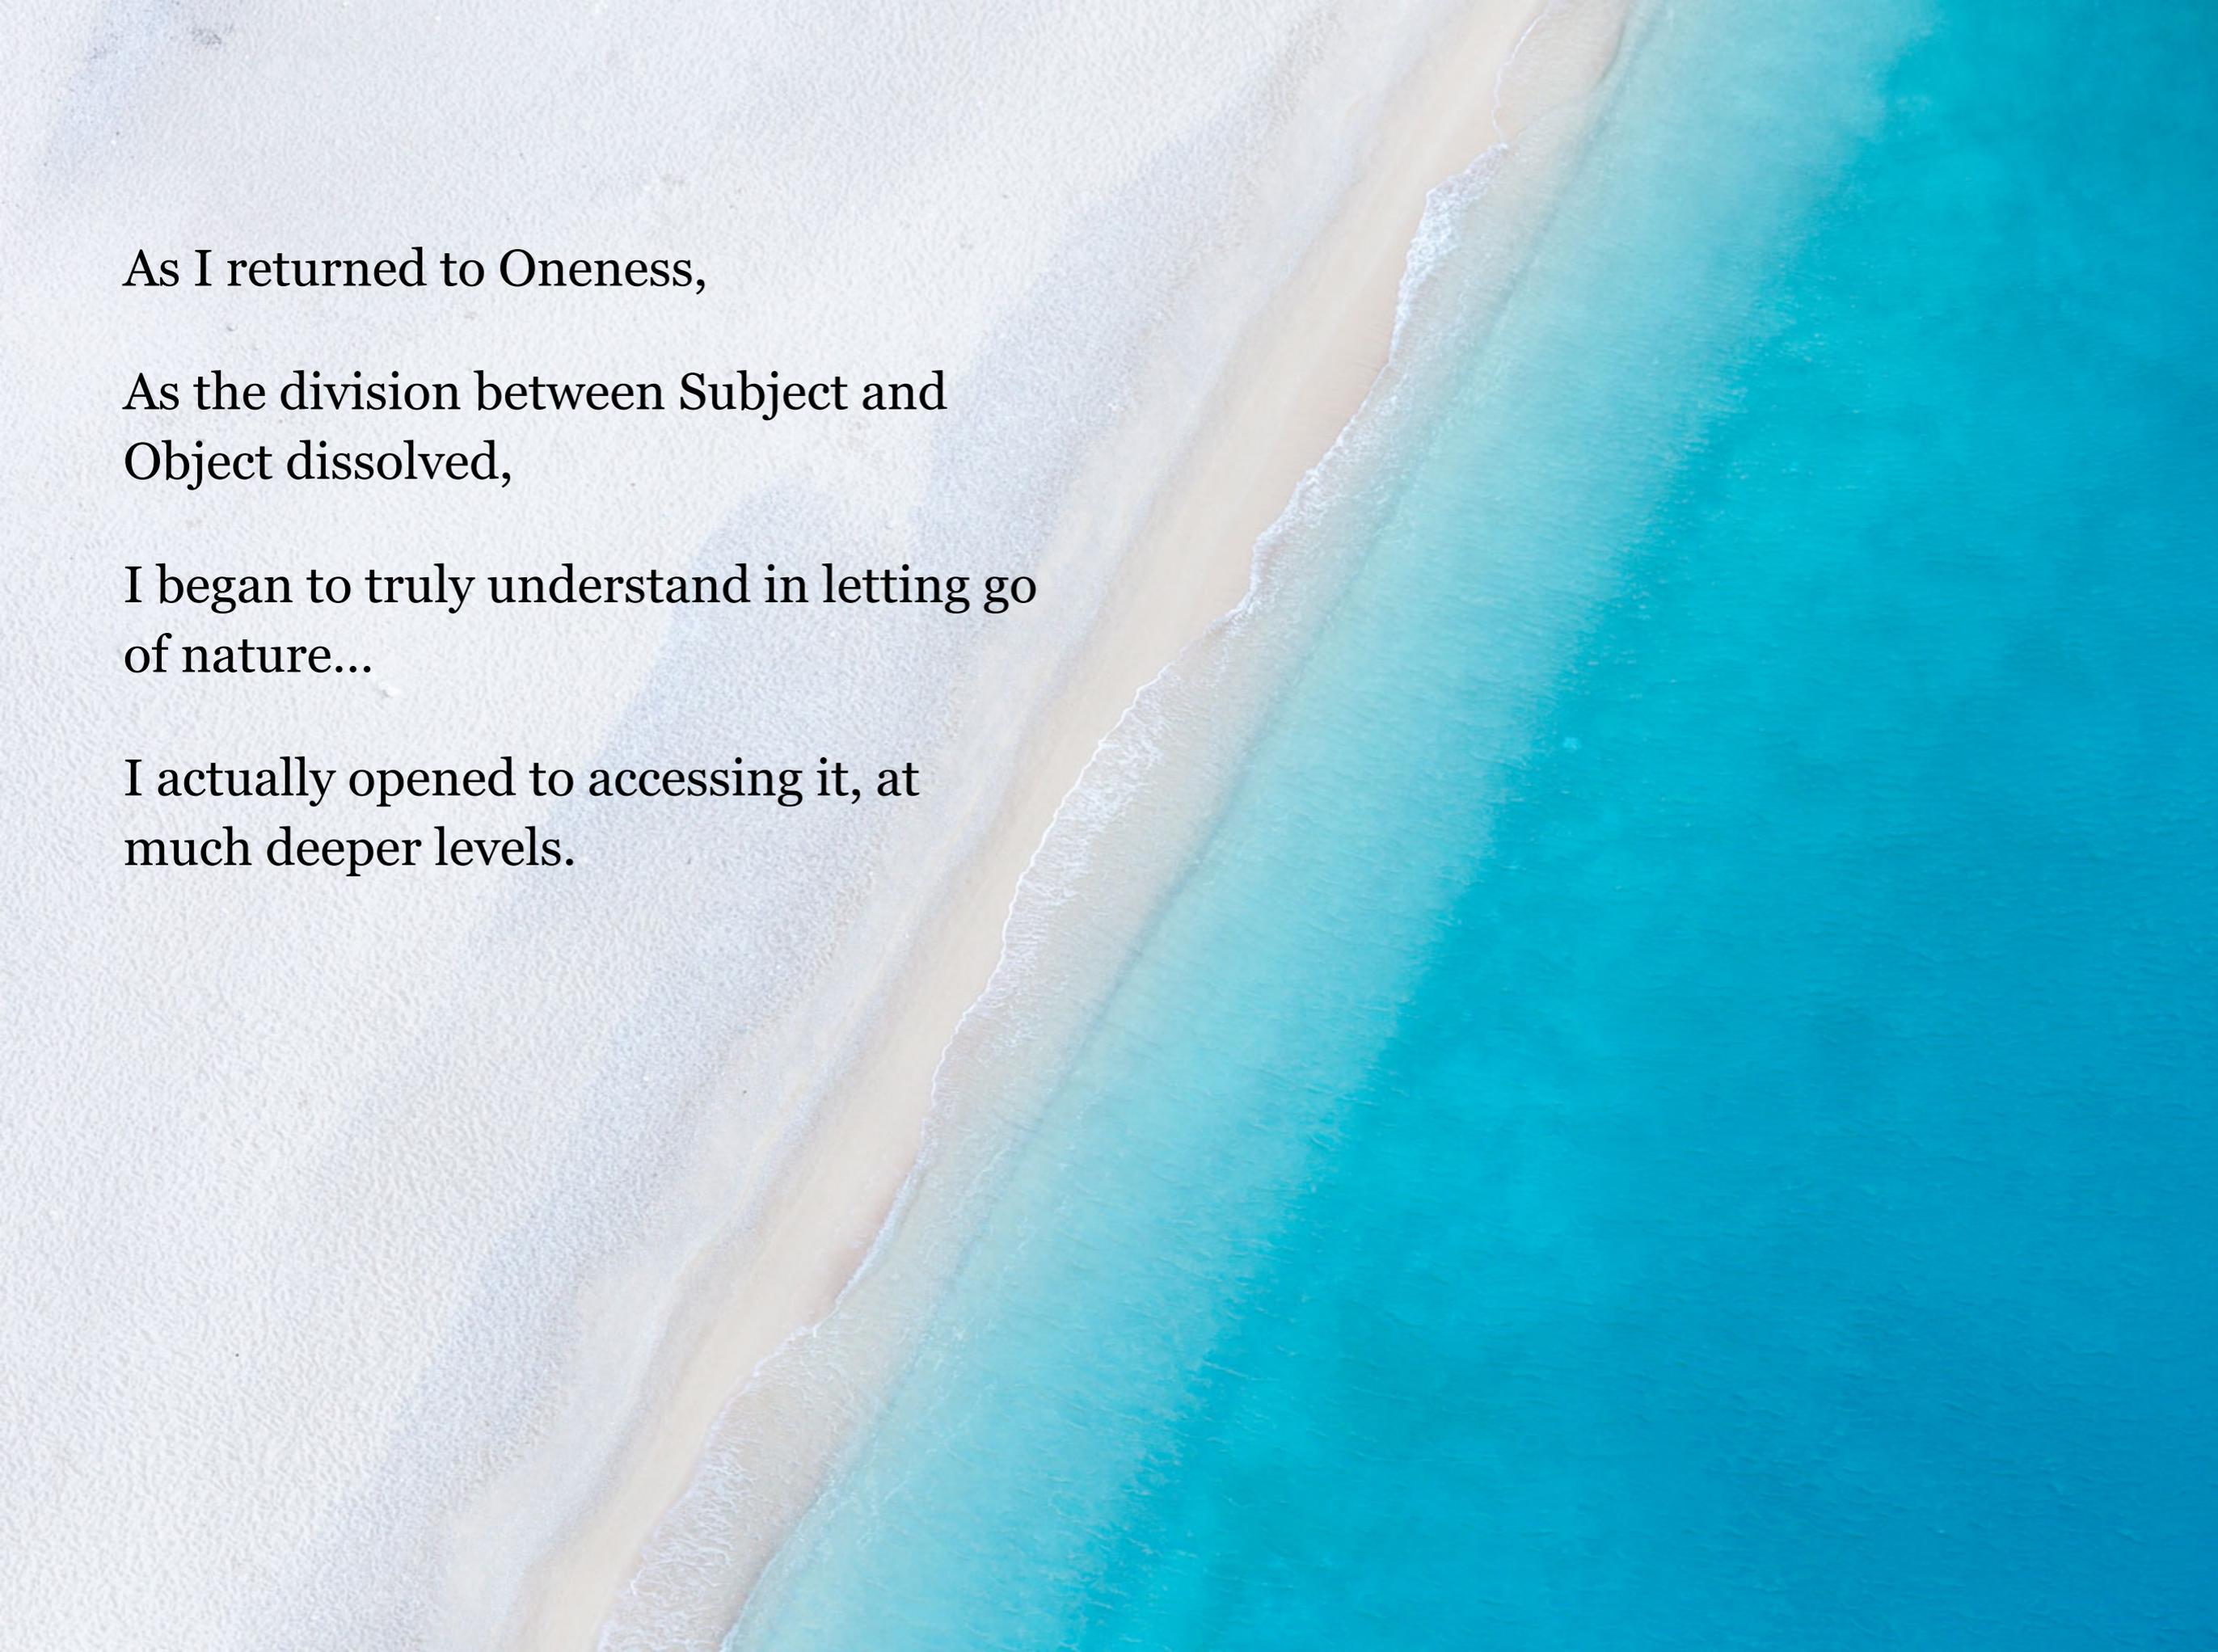

Sitting on the bottom of the Ocean of my Own Consciousness, I have collected energetic data points over the past 5 years to bring this information to the surface.

As my standard-issued human mind and biological body began to respond directly to I Am Consciousness, rather than my projected external environment, ancestral karma, and permeable hive mind, something almost traumatic occurred: I had to let go of the concept of external nature, to release myself from its grip of comforting separation.

For someone who had only found solace in nature and in the company of animals prior, it violently drew me into an internal discovery to finally answer the question: Who am I without all the externality and story? Once that question was answered year later through the science of God-Self Realization, I was able to return to the plant, animal, and mineral kingdoms ANEW!

As I returned to Oneness,

As the division between Subject and Object dissolved,

I began to truly understand in letting go of nature...

I actually opened to accessing it, at much deeper levels.

In this week-long event,

We will begin our morning with a brief presentation,

Before stepping out into nature to have a direct experience with — living the state of no separation and accessing nature at its deepest levels of existence.

The water is a vibrant turquoise color, deepening into a darker blue as it extends towards the bottom right. The overall scene is bright and clear, suggesting a sunny day.

All while opening potentials, possibilities, probabilities and passageways

...for this Copernican-scale revolution
occurring in Science

How is this different from say a Gaia TV presentation?

Life creates reality

When someone know this prior to realization they want to use it for their agenda (healing themselves, fixing the world, getting a new car) - yet once the Divine Personality of the God, Also takes over the omni-aware state of being is now accessible in this spatial and time-based reality - it's really all about JOY & FREEDOM of LIVING
